BETHEL HEALTH COUNCIL RE-AFFIRMS OBJECTIVE OF HEALTH CARE CENTER

The Bethel Health and Service Council regrettably confirms rumors that Dr. Gregory Sobczak will not be coming to Bethel. Robert Girard, Physicians Assistant, will continue at Gould Academy infirmary in anticipation of sponsorship by another physician. Interviews have already been set up for several other interested doctors.

It is a disappointment to everyone, but in no way quells the objective of Bethel's own Health Care Center with 24 hour a day coverage and an on-going program of preventative medicine by the fall of 1975.

B. E. A. R. S. TO SPONSOR TAG DAYS, MAY 8-9-10

Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service will be sponsoring Tag Days the week end of May 8, 9, and 10. Volunteers, including the Bethel Junior Girl Scouts, will be in various areas of town Thursday, Friday and Saturday to accept donations, and some outlying sections of Bethel and adjoining towns will be canvassed door to door.

It is hoped everyone will give generously, as proceeds will be used to purchase needed ambulance equipment.

WEST BETHEL BARN RAZED

What is known as the big red barn in West Bethel Village and now owned by P. H. Chadbourne of Bethel is being torn down. It was used for a few years by Mr. Chadbourne to house cattle which he pastured on the land that went with the set of buildings. The house was torn down a few years ago. The barn was built in 1890. (Taken from a clipping—"The new barn of A. S. Bean is nearly finished on the outside and is very large 120 by 50 feet." Dated Nov. 14, 1890) "A big asset to the village, A. S. Bean bought the place recently occupied by Rev. S. J. Gould. He had a piazza put around the house. The grounds graded and a gravel driveway made through them. The buildings all newly painted." There have been several different ones that owned or leased the property over the years before it was purchased by Mr. Chadbourne, who painted and repaired the barn.

Mr. White said that the upper holes were mostly dry but that carts of any kind would not be permitted until the course dried further. He also plans for the course to remain open later in the Fall than in previous years.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Selectmen must appoint three regular members and one alternate to a board of appeals. These people will work with the Planning Board and the Code Enforcement Officer on regulations pertaining primarily with the Shoreland Zoning and Flood Plain Insurance.

Our Shoreland Zoning Ordinance has been accepted by the State Planning Office. The only step left to make it legal is to appoint the Board of Appeals. The Selectmen expect to do this at their next meeting, May 12. They would like volunteers to serve on the Board. Anyone interested may contact the Town Office.

The Assessors have interviewed three firms who do revaluation work. They expect to select one in the near future.

Food Stamps issued during the month of April had a total value of $16,484. The people who received them paid $6,878.50 as their share of the cost. Elwyn N. Dickey

BETHEL INN IS EXHIBITOR AT "DISCOVER MAINE" VACATION TRAVEL SHOW

The "Discover Maine" Vacation Travel Show, held Monday at the Holiday Inn Downtown, Portland, featured exhibits from 150 Maine companies who are interested in the promotion of tourism in Maine and included a booth sponsored by The Bethel Inn. Inn manager, John Gasser, made and offered to the visitors his specialty, blueberry fritters, which proved to be very popular. Other booths promoted hotels, restaurants and the Maine seafood industry.

Especially invited to the Portland show were travel agents and tour operators from several states and Canadian provinces, including a group of 21 agents who were completing a three day tour of Maine, also sponsored by the Discover Maine program. They had visited Evergreen Valley in Lovell, Camden, Rockland, Boothbay Harbor and Old Orchard Beach, prior to their Portland visit.

Discover Maine was organized last year by a group of retailers as a means to promote tourism in Maine and they are especially interested in informing out-of-state travel agencies of the many Maine attractions.

On the Job With Emily

Most legislative matters this past week were overshadowed by the issue of the budget deficit, resulting from shortfalls in the revenue potential of the Dept. of Education. Part of the deficit was generated by the amended version of LD 1452, the bill to correct deficiencies in LD 1994, but the greater deficit was in the original Education Dept. estimates as presented in the Governor's budget. The deficit appears to be greater than $20 million, an amount too large to be corrected by shifting projected revenues within the original budget. The Governor addressed the House and Senate on April 22 to suggest possible solutions all of which would increase the amount of money communities would have to raise through property taxes. There is no longer any question as to the need to increase taxes. The question now is what form a tax increase will take. Democrats in the House seem to favor an income tax increase, while Republicans are divided with some preference for an increase in liquor and cigarette taxes.

Despite the attention paid to the deficit, other controversial matters were aired. The "Bottle Bill" proposing the use of returnable beverage containers, had its hearing before the Business Legislation Committee at the Civic Center on April 23. A large crowd attended, including a group of 16 Gould students with faculty members, Linda Wade and Cathy Newell. Several local grocers, including Eldon Greenleaf and Subby Wheeler, were there as well. The committee heard from both sides, and questioned those testifying, and will now prepare their report on the bill before sending it back to the House for voting. The minimum wage was under discussion and Emily feels that fellow-Oxford

County Rep. Wilfong's $2.50 per hour bill, which she supports, is gathering more support.

Governor Longley continues to extend invitations to members of the legislature in his effort to meet all of them, and Emily will be having lunch at the Blaine House on May 6 with a small group of representatives and the Oxford County delegation will meet with the Governor for coffee on May 8.

Two of Emily's bills will receive their committee hearings during this week. On April 30, the bill to exempt Historical Societies from sales tax will come before the Committee on Taxation. Marius Peladeau of the Maine League of Historical Societies and Stanley Howe, curator of the Moses Mason House Museum, will be among those speaking in favor of the measure. On May 1 the Committee on Health and Institutional Services will consider the bill to set up a fee system for the licensing of nursing and boarding homes.

The Department of Transportation has bags and signs available for groups who wish to participate in litter collection. Emily will be glad to bring such materials back from Augusta with her, once the leader of the pick-up group has made a request in the name of the organization from the Department of Transportation.

Lobbying Update: Comparative expenses for lobbying activities were revealed at the Bottle Bill hearings. The Maine State Grocers Association spent $14,990 on newspaper and TV ads, but revealed no other expenses. The Maine Citizens for Returnable Containers reported spending $2,702 for advertising, printed materials, postage, travel and secretarial expenses. The Citizens group has received free TV time under the FCC "fairness doctrine". The figure for the grocers' group does not include money paid to the 15 lobbyists at work in State House corridors. Wonder what that comes to?

30 Seconds WITH THE NAZARENE

Rev. Barbara Huse, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene

The words, "For God and Country" to many people have become almost obsolete. They have been replaced with "Me, Myself and I." You see, it is like this, "I" had a birthday party, "Me" ate all the ice cream and "Myself" ate all the cake. It is just another way of saying "God bless me and my wife, my son John and his wife, us four and no more!" I believe it is still true that the scouting program of America emphasizes these words "For God and Country." We have just passed Patriot's Day and most Americans probably thought little about it. "Hardly a man is now alive who remembers the famous day and year of the midnight ride of Paul Revere." Then we recall these words from Barbara Frieche "Shoot if you must this old gray head, but spare your country's flag she said." Past generations had the privilege of Bible reading, prayer, hymn singing, memorization of poems with meaning and beauty. When we stood to recite them the beat was usually like this, Ta Ta De Da De Da De Dum in a sing-song manner. A little chorus says this, "Jesus and others and you, what a wonderful way to spell J-O-Y. 'Yes, Jesus first, others next, yourself last. Maybe these are some of the things we have lost along the way and forgotten. 'These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.' John 15:11.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Friends in Bethel,

For each of the past four summers, we have looked forward to our weeks in Bethel, when John served as overall Director for N. T. L. programs. We have just learned that we won't be returning to Bethel again, since John has had to leave the N. T. L. staff. Bethel has become quite a special place for us, and we're very sorry we won't be returning. We'll miss you, but we'll have the memories.

THE MEMORIAL POPPY—1975

The American Legion Auxiliary has chosen May 16 and May 17 for Poppy Days in Bethel.

The poppy as the Memorial Flower for American war dead is a tradition which began in the years following the First World War.

Veterans returning to their homes in this country remember the wild poppies which lined the devastated battlefields of France and Flanders Field. It was Col. John McCrae, a Canadian officer killed in World War I, who immortalized the flower in his famous poem.

In Flanders the poppies blow— Today 55 years later that little symbolic flower continues to pay tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice in World War I and II, the Korean War and the Vietnam conflict.

The Poppy was chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary in 1921 as the memorial flower.

Each poppy is a double benefit for the veteran since they are reimbursed for their productions, and the families are aided through donations on Poppy Day.

But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the thankful and to the evil.

Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

The Library has had a successful year with 632 new books added to the collection. Use of the Library has been at the customary high level with 7,907 adults and 4,580 juvenile books circulated. The program of children's story hours on Thursday mornings has continued to be very popular. Every month there has been an Art Exhibit. Currently exhibited are paintings by Helen Morton of Newry.

SESQUI-CENTENNIAL TO BE OBSERVED AUG. 9 AT WILSON'S MILLS

Much activity is taking place in Wilson's Mills as it plans the celebration for its 150th birthday to be held August 9, 1975. The officers elected were Chairman, Laurie Littlehale; Secretary, Angela Bennett; Treasurer, Elise Littlehale.

"The Pioneers of Magalloway," a book published in 1918, is being reprinted especially for this celebration. The history of Wilson's Mills is being compiled by the Chairman, Marjorie Littlehale, and committee members, Mrs. Isabelle Bryant and Florence and Bill Adams. If interested in a copy of either they can be purchased by contacting Marjorie Littlehale or at the Sesquicentennial.

The silver and bronze commemorative coins with the Aziscons Dam on one side and the covered bridge on the reverse side can be purchased from the Chairman, Norman Littlehale, or committee members Angela and Warren Bennett.

A handsomely crafted 50 caliber Hawkins Muzzleloader will be raffled off the day of the celebration. The rifle is truly a precision shooting instrument. This brass plated collector's edition complete with its own handcrafted white pine display case will be sold through the Chairman, Warren Bennett, and co-workers, Keith and Frank Staley. Tickets are on sale now.

The entertainment committee, Donna and Donald Glover, Lynda and Danny Lake, have planned the days activities. A special service at the Spalding Memorial Chapel at 10:00 will open the ceremonies. The Chairman, Laurie Littlehale, is anticipating a spectacular parade immediately following the service at the Chapel. Coffee, hot dogs, hamburgers, and cold drinks will be served throughout the day.

There will be a turkey shoot and carnival games during the afternoon. There will also be scenic plane rides at Aziscons Lake by pilot Steve Bean. An antique display will be at the Aziscons Inn in charge of Donna Glover.

Anyone wishing to exhibit may contact Norman Littlehale, ground Chairman. Booths are welcome but a 10% fee will be charged on gross sales.

A gristwheel from the first gristmill built in this town one hundred and thirty-three years ago, has been resurrected by Norman Littlehale, Jeff Littlehale, and Frank Staley and placed in front of the Chapel.

Dick Pinnette will be master of ceremonies. There will be guest speakers at 3 o'clock and the auction of coins and drawing of the sesquicentennial muzzleloader and 30-30 rifle, crowel, and quilt. You'll better come hungry because a sensational chicken barbecue will be served in charge of Pete Baker from 4 to 6 o'clock. Country music will be provided for an hour in the evening by the Adams Family.

In memory of her sister Marlon Frost Hudson.

The officers of the Association for the coming year are: President, Frances Harding; Vice President, Ray Moran; Secretary, Margaret Joy Tibbets; Treasurer, John Head.

GLIMPSES OF BETHEL'S PAST
—LOCKES MILLS

From the book "A Genealogical and Historical Record of the Descendants of William Locke of Woburn" published by John Goodwin Locke in 1853:

"Samuel Barron Locke (b. 1767, d. 1840)... whose second wife was Polly Kidder of Hollis, Maine, whom he married Nov. 8, 1824. Mr. Locke was a millwright, the science of which he better understood than most men of his day. In 1796 he permanently settled at Bethel, Maine, where he purchased a fine tract of land and erected some mills, now known as 'Locke's Mills' (the area then called Greenwood) and owned and occupied by his sons James and Charles R. (1853).

The book establishes that Samuel Barron Locke is a fifth generation Locke in this country, the first being Deacon William Locke who was born in 1628 and came to America on the ship "Planter" in 1634 as a child of 6 years. A number of his descendants were living in and about Bethel in 1853, although no Lockes are now listed in the Bethel, Greenwood, or Locke's Mills telephone directories.

Samuel Barron Locke settled c. 1796 on what is now the Sunday River Road and owned most of that interval. He and his sons built a number of fine houses there as well as small mills. His homestead was known as "Maple Grove," according to Lapham's book, "History of Bethel". TAF

The meetings will be at 1:30 p. m. Installation of officers is on the agenda. Delegates and alternates will be chosen for convention at Rangeley Inn, June 5 and 6. TELSTAR DRAMA CLUB
TO PERFORM PLAY
MAY 16 AND 17

Telstar Drama Club will present a delightful play entitled "The Custard Caper" written by Joy Daane and Pat Corby. The production is scheduled for May 16 and 17 at Telstar Auditorium. Curtain time is 7:30 p. m. each evening. Tickets may be obtained in advance at the main office of Telstar Regional High School or from any Drama Club member.

The play is a nostalgic farce set in the late 1930's, at a time when horses still pulled milk wagons, men dreamed of inventing a gadget that would make a million dollars, and the bobby sox generation was coming into its own. Lois, played by Debra Buck, is mad for Paul (Marc Packard), the boy who lives next door. Grandma, played by Kim Waterhouse, is conducting a romance with Charlie (Jack Taylor), the milkman. They leave notes for each other in the old milk bottles. The poor generation in between is trying to keep everything straight and running on an even keel.

Charlie's "invention" of a new lawn mower gets mixed up with the plans for a bird feeder, and Grandma's fur coat disappears. Lois thinks that Paul is two-timing her with the girl she thought was her best friend (Kim Coolidge). Emotions flare up, but it is not until father's best customer (Leilani Poland) comes to get the money he (Victor Hathaway) has been holding for her, and is greeted at the door with a custard pie smack in the face, that things get riotous. As she stands there with custard pie on her face, Grandma accuses the poor woman of stealing her fur coat and calls the police.

Others in the production include Suzanne Royer as Helen Bentley, Becki Cobb as the scatter-brained Cora Mae, Scott Denis as Lance, Kathy Morey as George, and Richard Croteau as the rather funny and determined detective.

This is a play you will not want to miss. Bring a friend along for a hilarious evening of fine entertainment.

The production is under the direction of David Girona, the Drama Club advisor at Telstar.

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

It is early evening here at the foot of Noyes Mountain. The sun has dropped from sight but today the valley was full of long light and a bit of breeze brought in the sweetness of spring earth. One can feel the spring in the softened air. The hardness of winter has vanished or at least relaxed for a time. These early spring days are especially pleasant and so I forget that there may be more cold blustery ones.

The side roads, trails and woods are too wet to visit for some time and I might add that I'd need my snowshoes in most places in the woods even now.

So I walked the road. Along the way little streams with shifting broken patterns down the hillsides were seeping from under tree roots amid the leaves and mosses and widening to brooks.

To a true lover of the outdoors a walk is a happy experience, no matter how often repeated; it will never lose its charm. The trees alone are worthy of admiration whether they appear in spring's sheen, summer's green, or autumn's colors. They stand as rugged individuals, sentinels over all. Their lofty tops seem to brush the sky at dawn's coming or when sunset's fires glow and burn.

At the road between the ponds I hesitated for I thought how I would like to cross Turtle Bridge and go to Lady Slipper Ledge. I knew that I couldn't at this time.

Did you ever think how many plants pay tributes to ladies? Lady's-smock, one of the mustards common to low, wet places, Lady's-thumb, also known as heartsease, one of the smart weeds and cousin to buckwheat, Ladies'-tresses, little orchids, Ladies'-tobacco, one of the everlasting known as pussy-toes, Lady-fern, Lady's-earrings, the jewel weed and of course, the Lady's-slipper.

As I walked homeward, I imagined I could hear the muffled sounds of roots expanding with their power; the landscape at this time is a constant and vast system of action.

All along the way there were lacy shadows, balmy fragrances, and a thousand things to see.

Now, it's evening and night is falling in the woods, deep blue shadows growing cold and lonesome. Night waits for the moon to pull itself up and float free and clear along a silver path across the ink-black water.

Owls watch, raccoons begin to stir, pines stand silhouetted in the quiet evening, peace seems a reality. This is the time for dreams.
